

Dialogic Practices in Leadership

We are part of a complex world, and joining in with God to shift creation towards Godself in the ways of being human that Christ advocates is also complex.

The essence of partnering and working collaboratively rests in such ways of human interaction – enabling and releasing ‘passion’ with ‘responsibility’. Ways of dialoguing together in that spirit are being increasingly used to direct the shift – without expecting solution, but prayerfully leaning into positive change.

The Ven. Jan Crombie, Coordinator of Parish Partnerships, has been trained in methods of ‘Dialogic Practice’, including Open Space Technology and Listening Circles. Please contact her if your parish would like to know more about such methodologies, or would like Jan to lead you in a process of listening, leading to positive action. jcrombie@melbourneanglican.org.au
